THE PERSIMMON BRIGADE.

Annual Reunion Is Held in the Criminal Court Room.

The annual reunion and camp fire of the members of the Persimmon Brigade was held yesterday in the Criminal Court room. Ninety-eight members of the four regiments were present at the meeting. Prior to the opening of the meeting President Robbins opened a box of green persimmons that had been brought by one of the mem-themselves with the old design. The meeting began at 2 o'clock with the roll call, which showed the absence of several members who have died during the past year. After the roll call one of the members introduced a resolution of con-

Secretary Cassel in his report recommended that the brigade elect a treasurer this year, as the work of the secretary, who has heretofore acted as treasurer, has increased. At the election of officers this recommendation was the subject of spirited speeches from several members who were opposed to Mr. Cassel's idea. The question became so animated that President Robbins took a standing vote on whether Secretary Cassell's suggestion should be carried out. It was voted down and the secretary will act as treasurer for the next year. The election of officers resulted as

THIRTEENTH CAVALRY.

The Annual Reunion Is Held in Mansur Hall.

The Thirteenth Indiana Cavalry held its annual reunion in Mansur Hall yesterday and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President-John West, Indianapolis. Vice President-William Kruger, Wilkin-

Secretary-Rollin C. Irwin, Indianapolis, Treasurer-Dr. S. H. Moore, Indianapolis. Mr. West, the president, is one of the oldest living members of the association, which numbers a little more than 200 surviving members of the regiment. He is more than seventy-nine years old and has attended every annual reunion of the regiment since the civil war. The meeting place for the next reunion was fixed as Indianapolis and the time as Wednesday of President D. W. Stage, of Tipton, opened the reunion and after a prayer by the chaplain the old soldiers talked of the war and about each other for an hour. The history of the regiment's service during the war was gone over and the members recalled to each other the incidents of the campaign from Mt. Holyoke, Fla., to Montgomery, Ala., under General Grierson. The Thirteenth Cavalry was mustered into the service from Indianapolis in 1863 and served until the close of the war. During that time the first colonel, G. M. L. Johnson, was made a brigadier general for gallant service. The regiment par-ticipated in many raids in the Army of the Potomac, and was in the thickest of ighting at Nashville and other battles. The woman's auxiliary of the association furnished a basket lunch to the members in the hall at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Lieut. Col. W. T. Pepper, the only surpresent at the reunion.

GEN. STREIGHT'S REGIMENT.

Annual Reunion of the Fifty-First Indiana Is Held.

The reunion of the Fifty-first Indiana Infantry was held yesterday on the lawn of the Gen. A. D. Streight home, 4105 East Washington street. The surviving members of the organization found that during the past year twelve of their comrades had died and a number of others, by reason of infirmities, were unable to be present. Recently Mrs. Streight decided to move the body to Crown Hill Cemetery. A lot directly opposite that of the Morton family in Crown Hill was selected and a granite monument fifteen feet high erected over the place designated for the new grave. The monument contains a bronze bust of General Streight, and is so set as to face the bust on the monument to Indiana's war Governor. The exhumation of the body and its transportation to Crown Hill will take place soon, the date having not been determined on as yet. Mrs. Streight announced that the reunions would continue to be held at her home, if so desired, even after her death. At the reunion of the regiment yesterday the following named men were elected for the coming year: John B. Parker, president; W. A. Ellis, vice president; Allen H. The Twenty-seventh Indiana Regiment held its eighteenth annual reunion in Room 56 at the Statehouse yesterday. The feature on the programme was an original poem on "The Flags of the Twenty-seventh Indiana Regiment," by E. R. Brown, of Monticello. The regiment has monuments at Gettysburg, Cedar Mountain and Chanbers. The old soldiers were quick to adorn cellorville. The monuments on the two last-named battlefields were erected by the regiment and the one at Gettysburg by the State. The regiment started to the front with an enlistment of 1,101 men and officers, of which 109 were killed or died of wounds, 527 not mortally wounded, 126 missing or captured and 127 died of diseases.

The new officers are: President, Col. John R. Fesler; secretary-treasurer, Capt. J.

The Second Cavalry.

The Second Cavalry, Indiana Volunteers, held an interesting reunion in Judge Leathers's courtroom. About twenty-five were present, including State Commander Benjamin Starr, of Richmond. The Second Cavalry had much to talk about. Much time was spent in reminiscenses as to the heroism of Maj. Bob Stewart at the battle of Gallatin. Stewart found that General Johnson was about to surrender the Union troops. He called to the Second Regiment to follow him and it cut its way to freedom through the rebel lines. The capture of the Third Georgia was also a subject of enthusiastic discussion. J. H. Kelley, of Zionsville, was elected president and Chas. E. Merrifield, of this city, secretary.

Fifty-Fourth Indiana.

The Fifty-fourth Indiana Infantry held its annual reunion in Judge McMaster's court yesterday. The members were particularly interesetd in the publication of the regimental history, which is now prepared. A substantial subscription was made at the meeting, although only thirtyfour of the 200 survivors were present. The regiment elected William Robinson, o Dublin, president, and A. E. Sixty survivors of the Twenty-sixth Indiana Infantry held a reunion in Judge Carter's court yesterday. The regiment saw its period of active service in the Southwestern campaigns and now has a surviving list of over 400. This was because the regiment had during its service 2,000 members. Frank Alexander, of Greenwood, was elected president and G. G. Long, of Indianapolis, secretary-treasurer. It was decided to hold the next reunion during fair week next year at Greenwood Park.

Regimental Officers Elected.

Members of the One-hundred-and-seventeenth Regiment held their annual reunion yesterday morning in the Criminal Court room. A number of speeches were made, after which the following officers were elected: President, C. F. White, Fairmount; vice president, Robert Denny, Westfield; secretary-treasurer, Joseph C. INDIANA ASSOCIATION IN SESSION AT THE DENISON.

Reports Made by the President and Secretary-An Unusual Degree of Prosperity Apparent.

Forty members of the Indiana Electrical Association met yesterday afternoon in the Denison House and discussed conditions of their business in the State. The association is made up of power-house owners and general managers of electrical plants operating in Indiana, and was formed in this city in May. The purpose of the organization is to bring men interested in the development of the electrical possibilities in Indiana together, that they might become acquainted with each other and learn the manner of conducting the business of their competitors. The officers elected at the May meeting, T. C. McReynolds, of Kokomo, president, J. N. Harding, of Laporte, vice president, and Hal C. Kimbrough, of Muncie, secretary and treasurer, were ratified at yesterday's meet-

The association now numbers fortyseven and the men interested in promoting the organization say that they expect a number of new members to join at this meeting of the body and during the next year the association will grow to include a majority of the power-house owners of the State. Secretary Kimbrough says that it is to the interest of all men in a similar line of business to know each other, and in that way learn more of their business and discover new ideas by which they can

President McReynolds, in calling the meeting to order spoke for some time in explaining to the members present that the electrical business, the same as all other industries of the country, is now experiencing a season of great prosperity, and that the time to better its condition is at a time when all power houses are running and have a market for much electrical power. He explained the programme of the two days' meeting and touched lightly on a number of subjects interesting to the trade that would be discussed in papers by other members. He pointed out that a question of vital importance to all of them now is the fuel proposition, and, taking into consideration that gas as a fuel for manufacturers in the greater part of Indianasis at an end, and that coal for fuel is commanding a high price, he recommended that the men present at the meeting compare notes and find out what Rewards Paid Indianapolis Police for coal best suited to the use of power houses can be had cheaply.

Secretary Kimbrough presented his report to the meeting and talked for a few ninutes on the prospects of the growth of the organization. A. M. Barron, of Franklin, followed Mr. Kimbrough with a paper entitled "What We Hope to Accomplish by This Organization." In his paper he looked forward to the time when power house men would be so closely associated that they could have a uniform system of meter measurement of electricity and not be handicapped as they are now, according to Mr. Barron, by having one plant in a county charging at a rate per light and another charging for electricity by meter. Owing to the absence of J. P. Clarke, of Terre Haute, who was to have read a paper on "Kinds of Indiana Coal Used and Results Obtained," the paper of Hal C. Kimbrough on "The Best Way of Dealing with Gas as a Competitor," was substituted. Mr. Kimbrough's paper dealt with the proposition of electrical men competing with the gas companies in placing lights in stores and business houses. He said that the price of electricity for one incandescent lamp amounts to about onehalf cent an hour while the cost of gas in the Wellsbach lights is much smaller. Mr. Kimbrough offered a number of suggestions by which the manufacturers of electric light could compete with the gas ighting companies. The members of the organization joined in a general discussion of the trade after this paper, and all agreed that at this time there is more electricity expended for power than ever before, and point to this as an indication of unusual industrial activity.

At to-day's morning session C. F. Hewett. f Elkhart, will talk on "Rates by Meter and Otherwise," J. H. Harding, of Laporte, on "Bi-products," and Mr. Clark's paper on the coal question will close the session. A midday lunch will be given the members of the association by local electrical suuply agents. The closing meeting of the convention will open at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, and previous to the election of new officers and admission of members, S. F. Dibble, of Chicago, S. E. Gard, of Richmond, and A. M. Barron will read papers. The place of the next semi-annual meeting will also be chosen at this session.

The latter also paid $50 last night to the Indianapolis police penplays the kettle drum in the Sousa band. While the band was here last fair week Mr. Chapman was badly injurel in a prison he will be taken in charge by the street-car accident. While on his way to the city after a matinee he was caught in a rear-end collision and his foot was but escaped from prison. He has yet five years to serve in the South Dakota prison. badly injured. As a result of the accident he spent eleven weeks at St. Vincent's Hospital. "One of the worst features of the accident to me," said Chapman last night, "was the fact that I knew I would be cut off from a trip to Europe. Mr. tiary where he was to serve five years Sousa was about leaving for Europe and when he did leave I wasn't in my accustomed place. I'll make up for it this year, however, for the band will leave for Europe again on Dec. 24." When Chapman left this city after being discharged from the hospital he was uncertain as to versation as though he were not the deswhether he would ever be able to take his perate criminal that he is said to be. When place with the band again. He was much discouraged on account of his injuries. He named bank, do solemnly swear that the above finally recovered, however, and to put it in his own language feels "as good as new." Chapman has a number of friends in In dianapolis who will be glad to learn of his complete recovery.

F. T. Baker Going to New York. Frank T. Baker, Sunday editor of the Indianapolis Sentinel, has accepted the position of assistant Sunday editor of the New York Journal. He will go to New York in Bank, at Indianapolis, in the State of Indiana, at the close of business Sept. 15, 1902: two weeks.

No Time to Talk Annexation.

It will be time to talk of annexation after Cuba has had a fair and reasonable opportunity under favoring auspices to test her free and democratic institutions the capacity of her people for selfwill take government. That it years whether an pendent existence is the best for Cuba or not is a reasonable assumption. These years, at the best, will not pass without many sore trials, difficulties and discouragements for Cuban administrators. incident to the fact that the population of the island is a mixed race, that some strongly antagonistic elements exist among them, that intelligence and morality gen erally are at a low ebb, making necessary a vast amount of education and development before the mass of the people can be lifted up to the level where they can truly appreciate the advantages of self-government and give intelligent and helpful cooperation toward its establishment It is not for us to add to these trials and difficulties by introducing divisive issues among the Cuban people, sowing unrest and discontent, nor by meddlesome and offensive interference in their affairs. common decency, to speak of no higher consideration, demands not only that we should give the Cubans a fair chance to prove their capacity for self-government, but that we should give them all possible encouragement and co-operation in that endeavor. We are in honor and duty bound to do that, by the relations we have borne to them during the past few years, and by the promises, express and implied, which have given. We cannot do less and justify ourselves before honorable men the world over. Let there be an end, therefore, of this silly and fatuous scheme of annexation. which can only make its promoters ridiculous and do injury to a people who need and deserve all the help and sympathy we have to give. A Money-Making Family.

"The Gettits are on the road to wealth."

says the sage of the grocery. "I understood they was doing right well." observed the grocer. "Yes. They had a big wheat crop, and their corn crop turned out twice as good as they expected; the oldest daughter run away with a summer boarder that owns an oil well in Texas; the younger daughter is engaged to a sickly millionaire; the old man was hit by an automobile and gets accident insurance and damages from the chauffeur; and now they are going to move to the city, where the old lady will have a chance to collide with a trolley car and make the company settle."
